

Contents

- So.....
Matt McCleery wonders if the industry has learned anything from previous downturns. — page 5
- When Things Go Bad: A Practical and Personal Perspective
George Weltman reflects on lessons learned from his days as a ship lender. — page 8
- Yes, This Time It Is Different
Randee Day, while looking back, suggests strategies for a different future. — page 14
- Managing Liquidity and Financial Challenges in a Downturn
Socrates Leptos-Bourgi discusses what to do now and strategies for the crisis. — page 18
- Managing Risk Management
Mike Reardon looks at cleared trading and the use of options in risk management. — page 22
- Shipbuilding Contracts - How Much “Wiggle Room” Do Buyers and Their Banks Have?
John Forrester’s title says it all... — page 27
- The Roll of the Flag Administration in Difficult Times
Brad Berman and Jorg Molzahn discuss how the flag can help, with a specific focus on guidelines for lay up. — page 30
- Is Shipping Headed Towards a Restructuring Tsunami?
Hamish Norton and Harold Malone suggest that you prepare now before it’s too late, together with ideas and strategies to weather the storm. — page 34
- Restructuring in Rough Seas: Working Out Troubled Shipping Loans in an Uncertain Global Environment
Steven Kargman, an industry outsider, looks at shipping’s troubles with a fresh eye. — page 38
- Public Companies and Unrealistic Shareholders - How to Survive 50% Yields
Gary Wolfe gives advice on legal risk management. — page 42
- The Shipping Slump
Jean Richards describes the return of the repo-man. — page 48
- Ship Mortgage Enforcement - Preserving Your Security?
Bill Amos gives a brief on bank security. — page 50
- Protecting and Enforcing Your Security
Helen Noble tells you everything you need to know on this “don’t ask, don’t tell” subject. — page 52
- New Procedural Rules Could Make Panama the Perfect Place for Ship Mortgage Foreclosures
Francisco Linares takes a look at a potential modification to the enforcement law in a key jurisdiction. — page 58
- Mortgage Enforcement Flow Chart
Watson Farley & Williams demonstrates why a picture is worth a thousand words. — page 62
- A Perfect Storm
After describing what happened, Erik Lind and Andrew Hampson discuss the opportunities ahead. — page 64
- Something for the Weekend Sir? - An Insurance Survival Guide for Bankers
Peter Mellet explains what an owner’s insurance tells you about his health. — page 70
- The Purchase of Credit Insurance: Prophetic in Hindsight or Just Good Risk Management
Proved correct, Nick Maddalena reminds everyone why timing is everything. — page 72
- Surviving the Downturn: The Extended Role of the Shipmanager
Alex Vicefield describes the beauty and simplicity of an all inclusive service provider in these times. — page 76
- Surviving the Present Shipping Cycle: A Shipbroker’s Perspective
Basil Karatzas discusses the changing role of a market maker. — page 84
- Marine Bankruptcies: US Chapters 11 and 15
Don’t tell your banker that you are reading this article by Nancy Hengen and her team. — page 88
- Shipping, Finance and Insolvancies: The Black Swan Comes Home to Roost
Jeremy O. Harwood describes the complexities of cross border bankruptcies. — page 92
- Derivatives and Bankruptcies: Where Do the Safe Harbors Begin and End?
Barbara Parlin and Francois Janson give us something else to worry about. — page 96
- Interest Rate Swaps
Evangelos Hahos suggests a strategy, which allows you to pay less when you have less. — page 100

---

Cover concept: Johnny M. Kulukundis
Cover art: Clayton D. Murwin AKA The Hero Maker